

I had to do a little catch up attendance wise this morning from yesterday. I did attendance, some enrollments, and other tasks. Work went smoothly and quickly today. After work, I headed over to the Mebane Arts Center. We did a 80th birthday party for a lady. It was a 20's speak easy theme. It was so cool. the decorations were great. Plus 99% of the people were dressed up in 20's garb. Everyone had a great time and things went smoothly. We even got totally cleaned up and packed in 45 min. I'm headed to the shower and then to bed. Family reunion tomorrow!
