

Today was a teacher workday. I came in at 7 and worked until 12 and used some comp. time. I worked on filing, some medical & accident data entry, and had some good conversations. I came home and relaxed, napped caught up on a little TV, and finished up 12 Ordinary Men (that I've been reading on and off). I'm going to participate in a live podcast tonight. It has been a nice evening. I've listened some music and read. I took a nice hot shower and had some good prayer time too. I'm blessed!

Share this:

- Share