It was a quick day at school. I did the bulk of attendance work. I then headed over to Carrboro High School for a monthly data managers meeting. It went well. I which I would have taken my camera with me. You can look out in one direction from the school and see a lot of trees. It was beautiful with the fall colors. I did work on teams and lists in the afternoon. It was fun at homegroup tonight. We had fun singing songs and had a good discussion of the Word. Afterwards, we had a fruit & nut dessert that the Ashley's made and brought in honor of my birthday. It was great!
