

It was a good day. I got up and had breakfast and quite time in the Lord's Word. I headed to church. It was a busy time getting the system set up and the songs in order. It was sweet to hear again about the announcements of John & Jesus birth's. It was a sweet time today at church. I relaxed this afternoon. I talked with Mom & Dad. They got their Christmas tree yesterday in the mountains. They had a busy week but have a more calm one coming up. I also talked with Rob Mancuso. It was good to catch up with him and hear how he and his family are doing
