

It was a good day. I got dressed and headed to church for men's breakfast. I ducked out a little early so I could run sound in the sanctuary for Rejoice. We had a good service with Rejoice dancing, Micah & Jesse singing & playing, John Codispoti sharing a reading, and a good sermon on Luke 2. I headed home after church and ate lunch and gabbed a nap. I spent most of the afternoon watching the LOTR series on TNT. I talked with Mom & Dad. I can't wait to head to King Friday to spend time with my family!
