

I had a good quiet time this morning. I got ready and headed over to Graham. I got my mail, picked up some quarters from the bank and got 2 strings of Christmas lights for under $2. I did two loads of laundry, caught up on some Discovery Channel and watched another Horatio Hornblower movie. This evening I catered with Marg. It was a rehearsal dinner. It was an outdoor's theme. We had decorated the lobby with trees, cotton (for snow), and other cool decorations. It was a great group and the groom and bride loved it.

Share this:

- Share