

It was a great day. I got up early (for a Sunday) and headed into church. I got the sound set back up. We had a great Men's breakfast. Mark is doing a series on prophet, priest, provider and protector. The service was great too. I relaxed around the house this afternoon. I talked with Mom & Dad this afternoon. It was good catching up with them. I watched the 2 hour Extreme Makeover Home Edition. The family were believers. I also flipped back and forth with the football game.
