

I slept in a little this morning. I had a good time in the word and relaxed around the house. I met a friend for lunch and we had a good conversation. It was good to catch up and encourage each other in the Lord. I was glad we both had the time off today to meet. I chilled and watched some TV this afternoon. I talked with several of my neighbors about our building this evening. It was good to hang out a little. I have great neighbors.
