

Today was the first day the North Carolina NC Wise Symposium. There are 2 thousand of us in attendance. We are taking classes, sharing tips, and spending time with peers in the state. It was a busy day and I learned several things that will help in my job. I had lunch with 2 co-workers from my district. I got home and took it easy. I've been enjoying listening to music and spending some time in prayer tonight.

Share this:

- Share