

It was a full day but a good one. I got up this morning and had breakfast and time in the Word. I got ready and headed over to the church to run sound for Arts Alive's rehearsal. We got out a little early. I came back to the house and relaxed for a bit. I headed over to La Fiesta for the community Bible study. It was a good time of fellowship and encouraging each other in the Word. I headed back to the house and napped a bit. Then I headed back to church. We rehearsed a few numbers. Arts Alive's Winter concert went very well. We had a great turn out and the dancers did wonderful. You can read about the Spiritual Warfare dance over at Jamie's blog.
