

It was a busy day of attendance, computer work, and working on some pre-scheduling for next year. But praise the Lord it was productive. I got things set up for tomorrow since I will be at a conference all day. It was nice to have a quiet evening at home and to be able to sleep in a little later tomorrow.

Share this:

- Share