

It was a productive Saturday. I got up early and headed over to Souther Tire. I got there at 7:15am and there was a line in front of me. I got 2 new tires and a rotation and left by 9:15am. Then I headed over and got my oil changed. I picked up some odds and ends at Food Lion, got some gas and headed home. I did the dishes and dust mopped the house. I relaxed this afternoon. This evening I headed over to Haw River for the Community Bible Study. It was a good time and very encouraging. Now I'm headed to bed to stay ahead with the time change.
