

It was a very nice Saturday. I slept in until 7:40. I ate breakfast and had some quiet time in the Word. I did the dishes and a load of laundry this morning. I enjoyed listening to a podcast from Hawaii and catching up on some shows on my DVR. I laid down for an hour this afternoon. I really enjoyed watching it rain. I put on some jazz, listened to the rain and got ready this evening. We catered a murder mystery out at The Winery at Iron Gate Farm. It was Irish themed and so was the food. It went very well. I'm getting ready to grab a show and hit the sack. Goodnight all.
