

I've had a good Easter break so far. I had a VERY busy day at work on Thurs. Then I headed to Mom & Dad's. I went to church with them and it was a neat service of communion and a hand washing (instead of a foot washing) along with the readings for holy week. Friday, I was called by work. So I went to the library (where Mom works) and worked for 3 hours. I had borrowed a Mac laptop from work and I'm loving it. That evening we (Mom & Dad, Mary Etta (grandmother), and Mary Ann (my aunt) and I) had supper and then went to the special service at church. Saturday, I helped Mary Etta put flowers on graves and had fun talking and sharing with her for a hour or so. Then I ran an errond for my Dad. Mom & Dad and I relaxed around the house that night. Easter was good. Dad & I got up and went to the Easter Sunrise Service (Mom is fighting off a cold so she slept in). It was cold but a beautiful morning and a good service. After the service, everyone headed back to the church for a pancake breakfast. The Sunday morning service was great celebrating Christ and the new life we have because Him. It was a quiet Easter lunch. My Uncle Joe & Aunt Kathy and my Cousins Beth & Jennifer didn't come because several were sick. They did call. My Cousin Cliff called. He is in the Navy sub program and was out of state. Well I slept in a little today. I came over to the local coffee shop in King and had breakfast and enjoying the free wireless. I hope you all had a great Easter. See most of you tomorrow or later. I'm back in Bur-Vegas tomorrow. ☐

Share this:

- Share