

It was a busy day. I got grades printed and out to the homebase teachers. I did a lot of work in the system getting subs lined up and entry into the payroll system. I took time this afternoon to reorganize my office and make things easier to find. I also got the things I'm doing to cover for our secretary organized. I feel much better now.

Homegroup was really sweet tonight. We split up and the men went upstairs and the women stayed downstairs. It was very nice because we were able to be more open and transparent with each other. We also took time to lay hands on and pray for each other. It was so encouraging.
