

It was a good day. I got up and had some breakfast and quiet time. I got ready and headed over to church. We had a workday at the building today. A lot of work inside and out. I cleaned up a lot of metal, glass, and trash from where the temporary unit was. Then helped in putting out pine needles. Then I organized the back room behind the stage. We all had pizza for lunch and had some fellowship. We finished up and headed out. I came home had a nice shower and relaxed. Then I caught up on some shows on my DVR. I loved the warm weather and beautiful day. My sinuses acted up a little, but it was so worth it to be out in God's creation today. I even enjoyed watching it rain this evening. I has been a very good day!
