

It was a busy day at work. But praise the Lord I was able to get a lot accomplished and am getting caught up. We had our school's safe school committee this afternoon. It was very productive and some good changes coming about. I headed back to town and got a haircut. I ate supper and then headed out to homegroup. It was a good meeting and the Shoemaker clan (most of them) had made it in just before we got there. I did find out tonight at that a friend of mine has been in the hospital. I had been wondering but this is the first I heard about it. Now I can lift her up in prayer.
