

It was a busy Saturday, but a good one. I attempted to sleep and did a little (about 2 hours). I did 2 loads of laundry. I did a few things around town. I got my car washed to help raise money for the team going to Africa this summer. I ate lunch and put up laundry. I spent the evening catering. I spent a lot of it in the kitchen stirring the grits for shrimp and grits. I help Marg by keeping the food table restocked and helped pick up empty plates and glasses. It was nice to get home and kick back for a bit. Now it's time to shower and hit the sack.

Share this:

- Share