

Our staff prayer group went well this morning. It was a quiet morning with EOG's going on. After I finished up attendance. I got a chance to talk with the principals, receptionist, and guidance secretary. I spent the afternoon working on injury reports and discipline reports. I got a hair cut after work. Home group was good tonight. We talked about worshiping God alone and not having idols in our lives. It was sweet time.

Share this:

- Share