

It was a great day. I got up and had some quiet time. Then I headed over to the Alamance County Christians for Home Education (home school) graduation. I video taped the graduation. Out of the 10 grads, I knew 6 very well, 1 a little, and the other three I didn't know. It was a great group of seniors. I've seen many of them grow up in church and Arts Alive. I had fun looking over their memory tables and talking with people.

This afternoon, I went to the Kemp's house. They were hosting a graduation party for David and the other grads. Mark was grilling up food and it was great. We had some good games of speed volleyball. Plus lots of good conversations.

I relaxed at home tonight. I watched a movie and uploaded photos from my trip up to John's River with Beck's Church (my aunt & uncle's church).

Check them out here: <http://www.flickr.com/photos/ggentry11/sets/72157605611761216/>

Share this:

- Share