I grew up playing in the school/marching band. I have always loved music and respect artists who craft it. Thanks to Battlestar Galactica, I have discovered Bear McCreary. I own S1 & 2 of BSG sound tracks and I go to his blog each week to see how he crafts sound for The Walking Dead. This week's blog rocks. But this video blew me a way. If you are truly a musical you can make anything an instrument. He tacks the accordion and makes it a symphony.
