

Stuff I Learned Yesterday is a great podcast and I'm pleased to be one of the hosts for this season. This is the first installment that has been published. Please take the time to read the post and listen.

This is the first of the Stuff I Learned Yesterday podcasts of mine that has been released. But it was one of the last ones I recorded. The whole process of writing, recording, and editing Stuff I Learned Yesterday has taught me so much. I'm so grateful to Darrell Darnell for letting be a part of the team. I realized after his constructive comments that I still have a lot to learn. So even while I had to learn to play a part, I had much room for growth. Stuff I Learned Yesterday is a podcast that has several hosts who share the things they have learned in a story format. Then on Fridays it is a chance for the listeners to share the things they have learned.

I've always enjoyed being a part of a team. Being a part of the Golden Spiral Media team has been great. Now adding the Stuff I Learned Yesterday podcast team is a great pleasure. I encourage you all to listen to the podcast Monday through Friday. Each host brings something different to the mic. They each provide good insight and lessons in different styles. Plus the podcasts are short no longer than 20 min. Please listen and make Stuff I Learned Yesterday a part of your weekday routine! Plus we would LOVE to have you share on the Friday Forum. You can type out written feedback if you are apprehensive about your voice, but we would love to hear your voice!

So now without further ado here is the link to the blog & podcast!
